necessary, make inquiries about the written submittal.

A FINAL WORD

An Award of Merit nomination is not in competition with other Award of Merit nominations. Nominating Committees are encouraged to work together with other committees if the nominee has performed distinguished service in multiple committees.

The commitment of ASTM International's members to their standards development work is crucial to the continued success of the technical committees and the Society as a whole. Submitting a well-written Award of Merit nomination can lead to this success by focusing on the technical contributions of your nominee.

Please remember that the Award of Merit Selection Committee Members do not know your nominee. They must determine that a nominee has performed distinguished and not just expected service to ASTM International based solely on the information you provide in a nomination.

The nominee must be a member of ASTM International at the time the nomination is submitted and the year in which it is reviewed by the Award of Merit Selection Committee.

The nominee must be alive at the time of the submission cut-off date for the Award of Merit.

Please try to avoid the following occurrences:

- A nomination that is too brief and does not provide adequate information on specific technical service and contributions to ASTM International.
- A nomination in which the same facts and figures are repeated throughout the nomination.
- A nomination that lists information on the nominee's achievements not relevant to ASTM International, such as contributions to his/her employer or other organizations.
