	Peer Review
3	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The peer review staff, Sara Welliver (astm@jjeditorial.com), will send each author an invitation to submit a paper with the manuscript due date and a link to the special issue submission site • Note: It is important that you do not instruct authors to submit papers to the regular journal submission sites; papers submitted to those sites are for regular issues only and will not be included in your special issue
4	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If you have more than one guest editor, please inform the peer review staff which guest editor will receive all correspondence for each manuscript; only one guest editor can be assigned per manuscript • You will serve as editorial board member for all papers (except any for which you are a coauthor); in this role, you will select at least two reviewers for each paper, read the reviews, and recommend action (accept, revise, or reject) • The ASTM Committee on Publications requires two independent reviews for all papers. As a guest editor, you may not be a reviewer. If the two reviews greatly conflict, you may seek a third review. If you feel you have a situation that requires more than three reviewers, please contact Alyssa or Sara • After a paper receives the required number of reviews (2–3), it will be sent to you to make your recommendation • When revised papers are submitted, you may immediately make a recommendation (accept, revise, or reject), or you may send the revision back to one or more of the original reviewers. Please do not add new reviewers for revised papers • For each paper, the final decision will be made by the journal editor
	Production / Proofing / Compiling the Issue
5	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • As papers are accepted, they will be exported to Dylan’s production team to coordinate copyediting, typesetting, and proofing • Papers that clear peer review and production before the scheduled special issue publication date may publish online on the First Look website page for the journal as soon as a reasonable percentage are accepted
6	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • After all papers have been accepted, Alyssa will ask you to write an overview for the issue and to decide on the order in which the papers are to be published in the journal
7	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • All authors will receive a link to their individual paper and to download the full ebook of the special issue

ABSTRACT SUBMITTAL

A 250-word preliminary abstract should be submitted to ASTM (attention Alyssa Conaway) by abstract due date via email to Alyssa Conaway at aconaway@astm.org. The abstract must include a clear definition of the objective and approach of the work to be discussed, pointing out material that is new, and present sufficient details regarding results. It should be clearly indicated in the abstract if the paper is a review. The abstract must also include a title and the names and affiliations of all authors.

PUBLICATION

After the final selection of abstracts has been approved, the ASTM Editorial Office will invite authors by date of acceptance to submit papers no later than due date for manuscript. All submissions will be uploaded to the special issue paper submission site (link to be sent via email). Authors will be provided a link to the special issue title. All submissions will be peer-reviewed according to the normal procedures for this journal. The papers must not be of a commercial nature nor can they have been previously published, although reviews of previously published technology will be considered. For each accepted manuscript, the corresponding author will receive a copy in portable document format (PDF). All published authors will have the opportunity to purchase reprints of their papers at a nominal cost. The papers comprising the special issue will be published together online.
